

All thanks and glory be to God

For those of the faith who are reading this, the below is a short prayer I don't pray as often as I should, but I'm sharing it here because it gets at the heart of what motivates me to complete and launch the Coalesce Workstream™. The first sentence is first for a reason. The second sustains me daily as I work to commercialize Coalesce:

My Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, thank You for moving me one step closer to my supernatural purpose which is to truly know You. Thank You for the grace and clarity You bestowed upon me in 2015 to see my natural purpose which is to facilitate Your children in their vocation as creative makers of worldly things.
